VOLUME CIX.--NO. 56 ALEXANDRIA, VA., THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 5, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

Of Interest To Women.

To such women as are not seriously out of health, but who have exacting duties to perform, either in the way of household cares or in social duties and functions which seriously tax their strength, as well as to nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has proved a most valuable supporting tonic and invigorating nervine. By its timely use, much serious sickness and suffering may be avoided. The operating table and the surgeons' knife, would, it is believed, seldom have to be employed if this most valuable woman's remedy were resorted to in good time. The "Favorite Prescription" has proven a great boon to expectant mothers by preparing the system for the coming of baby, thereby rendering childbirth safe, easy, and almost painless.

Bear in mind, please that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse, because of the uncertainty as to their composition and harmless character, but is a MEDICINE OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle-wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. In this connection it may not be out of place to state that the "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, and sold through druggists, all the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of these endorsements will be sent to any address, post-paid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card, or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OPEN PULPIT ASSAILED.

Assailing the "open pulpit" legislation of the Episcopal Church at the Richmond general convention last year, which permits clergymen of other denominations to speak from its pulpits, Rev. Dr. William McGarvey, of St. Elizabeth's Church, Philadelphia, with in the last day or two has had distributed copies of a pamphlet which has astounded the Episcopal ministry in all parts of the country.

In the pamplet, which bears the title, "The Open Pulpit in the Episcopal Church," and which characterizes the legislation as "revolutionary" and "destructive," the author not only decries the law, but goes further, and without respect to persons, passes scathing criticism upon the bishops of the church, "the ones most responsible," for their acquiescence in the measure.

According to his idea, the Episcopal Church of today is facing a situation the seriousness of which cannot be exaggerated."

"Throughout the whole history of the Episcopal Church," he writes, "never was there such a condition of affairs as now confronts us. Our supply of clergy is diminishing at an appalling rate, and our influence is waning in places where once it was strongest."

In another place he says that the "open pulpit" will in the end make the "high churchman who still preaches apostolic succession the laughing stock of both Protestant and Roman Catholics as a man lacking in logical sense;" and again, that "it makes possible the admission to our pulpits of heretical ministers as teachers of souls."

In conclusion Dr. McGarvey says: "Of course, the persons who will be sought for, and for whom this clause of the canon was specially framed, are the ministers of the various Protestant bodies. Now who are these ministers? They are ministers of sects whose very existence was the result of the rejection of the teaching and authority of the church to which we belong, sects which deny what we hitherto, if no longer, have regarded as fundamentally essential to the integrity of the gospel.

"A Unitarian minister, the avowed blasphemer of the divinity of the Son of God, may, under this canon, be legally invited into our pulpits.

"And what will a Protestant minister teach? Anything he pleases. The canon places no restrictions upon him, so that one of our congregations may have in turn the Baptist minister explaining the foolishness of infant baptism, the Presbyterian demonstrating the novelty of episcopacy, the Quaker showing the uselessness of all sacraments, the Unitarian emptying the Scriptures of all witness to the divinity of Christ and the Universalist comforting the bewildered Episcopalian with the assurance that, however great may be his confusion now, he has at least nothing to fear beyond the grave.

"We certainly could not expect they would be so lacking in self-respect as for the time to divest themselves of denominational office and principles and to play the part of Episcopalian clergymen."

MURDERER SURRENDERS.

Frank Johnson, colored, who murdered Mrs. Carl Martin, colored, at Gypsey, near Clarksburg, W. Va., Tuesday, because she refused to elope with him, surrendered to Sheriff Flanigan yesterday afternoon, but not until he had shot and seriously wounded three members of the sheriff's posse, who surrounded the negro in a barn nine miles from Clarksburg.

There were 2,000 persons around the barn, and up until noon the negro held them at bay with a rifle. During the siege a number of shots were exchanged between the crowd and Johnson.

Shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday evening Johnson signaled to the sheriff that he would surrender if guaranteed protection from a mob. This the sheriff did. Johnson was than disarmed and placed under arrest. The sheriff and a company of deputies, with drawn rifles, formed around Johnson and forced their way through the mob when the county jail was reached. The prisoner was taken through the parlor of the sheriff's residence into the prison. So quickly was Johnson hurried through the crowd that there was little opportunity for a demonstration of violence that had been feared.

It had been determined to dynamite the barn if Johnson did not surrender.

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAR. 5, 1908.

THE newspapers during the past twenty-four hours have been called upon to note the passing of Senator Foraker. What with the unquestioned popularity of Secretary Taft and the more effective power of administration patronage and spoils the forces of Senators Foraker and Dick are put to complete rout in Ohio, so that, from present indications, their opposition to President Roosevelt's favorite will make no figure in the republican national convention. In the State convention on Tuesday the followers of the administration were resolved to give the discomfited opposition no quarter; and to fully emphasize this purpose James R. Garfield, another favorite of President Roosevelt, was made temporary chairman, and from that time the dwinding adherents of Senator Foraker had little or no further interest in the proceedings. Foraker had been "in the swim" for a long time, but, as in the case of all politicians, the recession was inevitable. Presuming too much upon his popularity in Ohio, he had the temerity to quarrel with President Roosevelt, and what was worse, on a question on which the President was in the right. The gratitude of the negroes, upon whom the Senator relied for his championship of the Brownsville battalion, has proved a most illusory political factor. His eclipse is almost total, and it remains to be seen whether he will ever emerge from the dark shadow cast over him by the people of his own State.

THE SECOND terrible disaster of the year 1908 occurred at Collinwood, Ohio, yesterday morning, when 180 children from 6 to 15 years of age were burned or trampled to death in attempts to escape from a burning school house. The first horror of the year occurred at Boyersville, Pa., on the night of Monday, January 13, when 150 persons, mostly children, perished in a fire which consumed a building used for the exhibition of moving pictures. In both calamities all the children of many families perished. It is hinted that the disaster at Collinwood was of incendiary origin, but it is more than likely that it was the result of carelessness on the part of some person whose duty it was to watch the furnace. If this is a fact, the janitor, who will naturally be held responsible, has sorrow enough to crush him, as three of his children are among the little victims. Fathers and mothers, unable to reach their children, gathered around the burning building, only to see their dear ones buried in burning embers as the floor fell in. The terrible disaster will for a time, at least, cause persons connected with schools to exercise precaution and use proper safeguards against fire. It should be a life-time reminder of what might occur in any city.

DUN'S record of commercial failures during February shows a total of 1621, with liabilities amounting to $27,064,-571. In the same month a year ago the number of failures was 924, and the total liabilities of the concerns which became insolvent were $10,283,770. The Philadelphia Record says the liquidation resulting from the October financial panic and the industrial depression which followed is evidently still in process. There are indications of improvement, however, in the fact that the February failures involved a reduced total of indebtedness as compared with the January record, while as compared with December last the total was over $9,000,000 less.

IN THE House of Delegates on Tuesday during the discussion of the resolution to extend the session of the legislature, Mr. Curlett, of Lancaster, discussed the various advantages of an extended or extaa session, favoring the latter because the members would get extra pay for an extra session. He said: "The State is abundantly able to pay the expenses of an extra session; more able, in fact, than the individual members are to provide their traveling expenses." Unfortunately for the State there are too many such men in the legislature like Mr. Curlett.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, D. C., March 5.

The big suit between the States of Virginia and West Virginia, over the claim of the former that the latter should share Virginia's $33,000,000 was advanced one stage today when the attorneys for West Virginia presented to the Supreme Court of the United States their arguments for the limitation of the powers of the master whom the court proposes to appoint to take testimony in the suit. Virginia wants the master given a wide field. It is expected that the taking of testimony will begin this summer.

Although the United States has not as yet taken official cognizance of the difficulty between China and Japan arising from the seizure of the steamer Tatsu, the situation is being watched with interest. Any move on the part of the Mikado to acquire Chinese territory will very likely not be allowed to go without protest from this government. The view generally entertained here is that Japan is disposed to force hostilities in order to distract attention from her grave internal situation. It is commonly understood that Japan is fully prepared for war.

"I am not at all surprised," said Representative Richmond P. Hobson today when his attention was called to the threat of war Japan is reported to have made against China. "Japan is ready for an invasion of China," he continued, "having prepared for it by the organization of six divisions of cavalry. "Japan has been planning to bring about complications with China for a long time, and it is through inducement with regard to the partition of China that Japan has been able to secure the co-operation of European nations, in particular France, Russia and Great Britain."

Baron Takahir, the Japanese Ambassador, was one of the first of the diplomats to call upon Secretary Root today. From his comment, it is evident that Japan does not propose to recede from her present attitude in the affair with China. Baron Takahira said that he did not attach unusual significance to the seizure of the Tatsu, and that he believed the situation would clear within a few days. He repeated the statement of Minister Hayshi that China would be compelled to realize her mistake.

The authorities of the State Department while watching the China-Japanese situation are not inclined to believe that any rupture will follow the seizure of the Japanese steamer. The situation is not taken to be so serious as indicated. It is a singular fact that no war has ever grown out of the seizure of a vessel. If the facts in the case are as claimed by Japan, the Japanese government is justified in demanding the return of the vessel according to sentiment in Washington. It is believed that the difficulty will be disposed of by China's finally acceding to the Japanese request.

It is the general opinion that the committee on rules will recommend an inquiry into the charge that members of the naval affairs committee were influenced in legislation affecting the Electric Boat Company.

The President's yacht, the Mayflower, sailed from the Washington navy yard at 8 o'clock this morning for New Orleans, from which point she will proceed up the Mississippi river to Vicksburg, to carry Mrs. Roosevelt and party from the Crescent City up the river. The Mayflower will be at the disposition of Mrs. Reosevelt until about the 1st of April, when the party will leave the vessel, probably at New Orleans.

Discussing the statement issued in Boston by his Colleags Senator Crane urging that the Massachusetts delegates to the republican national convention should go uninstructed Senator Lodge, the close friend of the President came out squarely for Taft.

The House committee on industrial arts and expositions today agreed to recommend to the House an appropriation of $500,000 toward an Exhibit at the Tokio Exposition in 1912.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, Mar. 5.

SENATE.

Twice within a brief period the Senate has been called upon to mourn the loss of one of its members. On February 20th Senator Latimer of South Carolina died, and today it fell to the lot of Senator Dillingham of Vermont, to announce the death of his colleague, Senator Redfield Proctor. In a voice full of suppressed emotion he performed this sad duty and then offered resolutions of regret which were at once adopted by the Senate.

After the Vice President had announced the appointment of the committee which will represent the Senate at the funeral, Mr. Dillingham moved that an adjournment be taken as a further mark of respect and this was done at 12:07.

The committee consists of Senators Dillingham, Gallinger, Daniel, Perkins, Taliaferro, Overman and Hemenway. The train will be in charge of sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, Colonel Dan M. Ransdell.

A special train has been engaged to carry the remains, the family and the committee. It will leave here at nine o'clock tonight; arriving at Proctor, Vt., at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon. The funeral will take place a half hour later.

HOUSE.

In opening the House with prayer today Chaplain Couden referred to the death of Senator Proctor, of Vermont.

After hearing the announcement by Representative Haskins of the death of Senator Proctor, the House adjourned at 12:30 o'clock as a mark of respect.

The Speaker appointed Representatives Haskins, Foster, Parker, Littlefield, Lamb and Slayden as a committee to attend the funeral.

DEATH OF SENATOR PROCTOR.

United States Senator Redfield Proctor formerly Governor of Vermont and Secretary of War under President Harrison, died suddenly at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in his rooms at the Champlain Apartment House, in Washington which he owned. The cause of death was pneumonia and pleurisy. He had been ill buat few days.

News of the Senator's death was brought informally to the attention of the Senate at 5:10 o'clock and resulted in immediate adjournment. No formal announcement was made to the Senate for the reason that his collegue, Senator Dillingham, was absent. The formal announcement will be made tomorrow. Both branches will immediately adjourn out of respect to the memory of the distinguished statesman.

Senator Proctor is survived by his wife, two sons—Fletchea D. Proctar, Governor of Vermont, and Redfield Proctor, jr.—and a daughter, Miss Emily D. Proctor.

Redfield Proctor was born in Proctorsville, Vt., June 1, 1821. He practiced law in Rutland, Vt., and later in Boston. He enlisted in Third Vermont Volunteer Regiment at outbreak of the civil war and was made a first lieutenant. A year later he was promoted to colonel, and served as such until the end of the war. In 1869 he became interested in the marble quarries in Vermont and formed the company which has since become the greatest company of its kind in the world. He succeeded Edmunds in the United States Senate November 2, 1891, and had served in that body nearly 17 years.

The Senate bill granting an extension of time for the construction of the first twenty-mile section of the line of the Alaska-Pacific Railway and Terminal Company was passed.

A bill amending the patent laws, so that the legal representative of an applicant, who has become insane, may act for such applicant, was passed.

The House proceeded to the further consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill in committee of the whole.

PURE FOOD BILL BECOMES A LAW.

House bill No. 152, creating a dairy and food commissioner, has been passed by the General Assembly, and now goes to the governor for his signature. The bill was called up yesterday by Senator Hart, and passed under suspension of the rules. It provides for a dairy and food commissioner to be appointed by the governor for a term of four years, by and with the approval of the General Assembly. The commissioner will have an office in Richmond and work in conjunction with the Department of Agriculture and Immigration. He will receive a salary of $2,500 per annum, and in conjunction with the Commissioner of Agriculture shall elect a deputy at an annual salary of $1,500. Their duties will be to enforce all laws relating to adulteration, impure or unwholesome food or drink, and are given inquisitorial powers for the inspection of any factory, creamery, store, salesroom, or elsewhere that food or drink is stored, sold, or offered for sale.

THE REAL CAUSE.

The Ancient Scalp-Fever Theory Exploded.

At one time dandruff was attributed to the result of a feverish condition of the scalp, which threw off the dried cuticle in scales.

Professor Unna, Hamburg, Germany, noted authority on skin diseases, explodes this theory and says that dandruff is a germ disease.

This germ is really responsible for the dandruff and for so many bold heads. It can be cured if it is gone about in the right way. The right way, of course, and the only way, is to kill the germ.

Newbro's Herpicide does this, and permits the hair to grow luxuriantly, just as nature intended it should.

The Legislature.

SENATE.

The Senate passed the bills introduced by Speaker Byrd and favorably acted upon in the House, one to enable the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad to take a new charter under the present constitution, relinquishing all special privileges and disabilities, and the other to authorize the State Sinking Fund Commissioners to convert the stock and dividend obligations held in the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad into stocks of said company under any new charter.

Senator Keezell, chairman of the finance committee, announced that the general appropriation bill was practically completed, and would be ready to be reported today. Upon his motion leave was granted to have the measure printed, and the bill was set as a special and continuing order for Thursday at 12 o'clock.

The congressional redistricting was the special order for yesterday. It provides for taking Floyd county, conceded to be republican, out of the Fifth district and adding it to the Sixth, where its vote will be neutralized, and the removal of Craig county from the Ninth district and adding it to the Tenth. The bill had been approved in the democratic caucus. The bill, was passed only the republican members voting against it.

The compulsory education bill passed the Senate yesterday afternoon. The measure requires the attendance in the public schools of children between the ages of eight and twelve years, but leaves the enforcement of the law optional with the boards of supervisors of the counties and the proper city officials.

The original bill was practically torn to pieces by amendments.

The conference agreement on amendments to the Byrd liquor law was reported to the Senate this morning and concurred in. The bill, as amended, was passed and now goes to the governor for his signature. The changes agreed upon in conference were inconsequential and for the purpose merely of perfecting the bill.

Again the Senate voted against an extra session and it was possible to muster only the exact three-fifths vote necessary for an extension. The House concurred in the Senate amendments to the resolution, so that the legislature will remain in session and proceed with its regular work until midnight of the 12th. It will then return on the 25th and attend solely to the Blackstone matter. The Senate also concurred in the House joint resolution providing for the service of legal notice upon the accused jurist.

The oyster bill affecting the Baylor survey, which had the indorsement of the Board of Fisheries and which was not opposed by the Tidewater Senators went through the Senate.

The Senate passed a House bill relating to cases of fire damage by railroads, which is likely to cause dissatisfaction among those corporations.

The bill which prohibits unlawful hunting and the sale of game birds in this State was argued at length, and was finally passed with a few unimportant amendments.

House bill concerning the appointment of a dairy and food commissioner, within the Department of Agriculture and Immigration, and imposing penalties for its violation was favored.

Other measures passed by the Senate were:

Authorizing railroads to surrender their charter.

To convert the stock of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad Company into stock of said company under new charter which it may hereafter acquire.

Establishing an epileptic colony.

In relation to fishing in the waters of the Commonwealth.

Creating the commission of fisheries.

HOUSE.

The House took up Senate bill No. 9, which aims to abolish physicians' license taxes, and certain members made thunderous speeches in opposition. After several amendments to the bill—all save one had been defeated—the measure came up on its passage. The vote was 42 to 18, which meant the defeat of the measure, as it required a constitutional vote of 51. The opponents of the measure were headed by S. H. Love, of Lunenburg, the parson legislator, who claimed that the physicians as a class were the best paid class of men in the commonwealth.

The House took up a bill to regulate the employment of children in factories, which had been returned from the Senate with certain amendments, adding to factories and workshops the words "mercantile establishments." The Senate amendments were adopted and the bill passed as amended.

A bill to prevent non-residents from being concerned or interested in fishing in the waters of the State for the purpose of manufacturing the fish into oil or fish scrap was passed.

The bill to authorize the supervisors of counties to adopt rules prescribing the width of tires of vehicles used on the public roads was lost.

The House passed the bill to provide compulsory school attendance under local option plan.

The bill designed to prevent gerrymandering in the ward lines of cities, an amendment to the bill passed at the last session, was passed.

The bill in reference to the regulation of school superintendents and their salaries was lost.

LETTER TO Ed E LAWLER & CO

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sirs: How two men differ! N Avery, Delhi, N Y, had two houses painted two ways; the houses alike, same painter, different paints. One paint 6 gallons; the other 12.

A dealer there who was selling the 12-gallon paint, threw it out and put in the 6-gallon paint.

Do you see why? The less-gallons paint cost less for the job by 6 gallons of paint and 6 days' labor: $10.75 for paint and $12 to $24 for labor (according to painters' wages $2 to $4 a day.)

A dealer in paint at Malone, N Y, was selling this 6-gallon paint, was offered the 12-gallon paint for 15c less a gallon, and took it! To make that extra 15c a gallon, he saddles a loss of $22.75 to $34.75 a job on his customers. What if they find it out?

The people had better look-out for that $22.75 to $34.75, whichever it is—we don't know what painters' wages are there.

The two paints are Devoe and another at the same price by the gallon Will you figure-out that 12-gallon paint: what a man can afford to pay for a gallon of it?

The answer is (if you figure it right) taking wages $2 a day: A man could afford to put-on that paint if somebody pays him 12½c a gallon; and taking wages $4 a day, he must get $1.2i a gallon.

Yours truly,
F W DEVOE & Co.

Ohio Public School Horror

According to the latest reports 180 children lost their lives yesterday in the burning of the public school at North Collinwood, Ohio.

The scenes in connection with the terrible catastrophe were most horrible, and form object lessons to all upon whom the responsibility of conducting schools is placed.

At 10 o'clock last night 165 corpses were in the morgue at Collinwood, six children were still unaccounted for and all the hospitals and houses for two miles around contained numbers of children, some fatally and many less seriously injured.

All the victims were between 6 and 15 years old. The school contained between 310 and 325 pupils, and of this entire number only about 80 are known to have left the building unhurt.

The schoolhouse was of brick, two stories and an attic in height. The number of pupils was more than normally large, and the smaller children had been placed in the upper part of the building. There was but one fire escape, and that was in the rear of the building. There were two stairways, one leading to a door in front and the other to a door in the rear. Both of these doors opened inward, and it is asserted that the rear door was locked as well.

When the flames were discovered the teachers, who seem to have acted with courage and self-possession and to have struggled heroically for the safety of their pupils, marshaled their little charges into columns for the "fire drill," which they had often practiced.

Unfortunately the line of march in this exercise had always led to the front door, and the children had not been trained to seek any other exit. The fire yesterday came from a furnace, directly under this part of the building. When the children reached the foot of the stairs they found the flames close upon them, and so swift a rush was made for the door that in an instant a tightly packed mass of children was piled up against it.

From that second none of those who were upon any portion of the first flight of stairs had a chance for their lives. The children at the foot of the stairs attempted to fight their way back to the floor above, while those who were coming down shoved them mercilessly back into the flames below. In an instant there was a frightful panic, with 200 of the pupils fighting for their lives. Most of those who were killed died here. The greater part of those who escaped managed to turn back and reached the fire escape and the windows in the rear.

What happened at the foot of that first flight of stairs will never be known, for all those who were caught in the full rush of the panic were killed. After the flames had died away, however, a huge heap of little bodies, burned by the fire and trampled into things of horror, told the tale as well as anybody need to know it.

Various and unconfirmed statements are made of the cause of the fire and also that the doors of the building had been locked at the front entrance, while but one door of the rear entry was unfastened. The janitor, Fritz Herter, himself bereaved of three children, says the doors were open, according to custom. At any rate, the congestion of fleeing children in the hallway below effectually barred the way, and the little ones went to their death totally unable to evade the flames.

The school was overcrowded with pupils and it was found necessary to utilize the attic for those between 6 and 8 years. Nearly all the children were killed in the mass at the first floor door, which was finally opened by men from the Lake Shore Railway shops, who hurried to the scene. A wall of flame had formed across it, however, and most of the children were already dead by the time the doors were swung.

Dispatches today show that about 180 children lost their lives in the fire.

In addition to this frightful list of dead, fresh grief came to the suburb today with the announcement that several women, mothers of children lost in the fire, have lost their reason. One mother attempted to kill herself early this morning.

At almost every house along the street today white ribbons floated from the door knobs. At one, three bows of white marked the number of dead. At the table there at noon a father sat silent with eyes that stared ahead and saw nothing. The food before him lay untasted. At the side of the table were their three chairs. In the corner the skates of the younger boy. On the rack behind the door hung the cap and cloak of his little girl. All dead. The baby in his chair pounded the tray with his spoon. "Papa" baby cried in childish prattle, "Papa, when's Alice coming home?" In the front room the bodies lay side by side. And there beside them, crying, the mother knelt.

Fathers were affected differently. Some cursed, some gazed stony-eyed upon the twisted, charred shapes before them, the light of reason having deserted their eyes temporarily; some raved like madmen.

One hundred and sixty-two bodies have been recovered from the ruins.

Material distress has existed in Collinwood for months, due to the fact that many factories have been partially closed. Scores of families are without money or food.

The victims will be buried together in one general funeral, probably tomorrow morning. The thirty unidentified bodies will be laid away in a field purchased by the city. The spot will be marked with a monument raised by popular subscription.

Executions by Electricity.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., March 5.—Only the governor's signature is required to abolish hangings in Virginia. The Senate today concurred with the House in a bill to have all future executions in the penitentiary and by means of electricity. The public, including newspaper reporters, are strictly excluded from attending such executions.

By a vote of 70 to 14 the House today passed the school teachers' pension bill. The galleries were crowded with teachers.

The Senate today began a consideration of the substitute report on the general appropriations bill which distributes nearly eleven millions of dollars. Chairman Keezell congratulated the assembly, saying the total was nearly double what it was when he began his service in the legislature a few years ago.

War Imminent?

London, Mar. 5.—War is imminent between China and Japan. High officials are at last unofficially admitting that there is every appearance of a disposition on Japan's part to force a quarrel in China. The incident of the Chinese seizure of the Japanese steamship Tatsu Maru seems trivial. Considering it as the culmination, however, of a series of still unsettled misunderstandings over territorial and other really important matters, it assumes a serious aspect.

The Midado's attitude has made even the Tatsu controversy one which it would be hard to adjust amicably. No one familiar with the circumstances doubts that the steamship was trying to make a surreptitious landing of arms on the Chinese coast for rebels against the government. Though consigned to Macao merchants, it is not thought it was intended for them.

Yet the Chinese acted with perfect courtesy. They offered to submit the dispute to a mixed court, and, on meeting with a peremptory refusal, began what has been a very fairly conducted inquiry of their own.

Just why China should have agreed to release the Tatsu, apologize for the seizure and pay indemnity February 29, when it evidently did not intend to carry out such a pledge, is uncertain. The time having passed, however, without action, the dispute assumes an acute stage.

Japan is known to have implied the gravest threats as evidenced by the dispatch of a cruiser to Canton to enforce its demands and it is not denied that disregard of them will be deemed a casus belli.

The Mikado's motives seem reasonably clear. For one thing he and his advisers probably think a foreign war would take attention from the shocking conditions of trade, finance and the working class at home. Success in a clash with the Chinese would undoubtedly greatly tighten Japan's grip on Manchuria.

The Mikado doubtless counts on England to protect him from outside interference in the event of aggressions against China.

English public opinion is far from being as generally pro-Japanese as might be expected from the nature of the diplomatic relations between the two countries.

Pekin, March 5.—Japan has refused a second Chinese proposition to arbitrate the Tatsu Maru dispute.

Vice-Admiral Sir Arthur William Moore, commanding the British China station, was suggested as the mediator. The offer was considered here as even more favorable than the original one, which contemplated settlement of the controversy by a joint Chinese and Japanese commission. The Mikado insists on the Tatsu's surrender, an apology and a guarantee that the shippers shall lose nothing, amounting practically to a demand that China buy the cargo.

Tokio continues to threaten force unless the Chinese yield, the latter are determined to maintain their rights, and it is hard to see how a peaceful understanding can be reached.

Since the Tatsu was seized other Japanese vessels, according to information in the Chinese customs officials' hands, have been carrying on a contraband trade in the waters where the first seizure was made.

It is believed here that Japan is trying to dispose of 80,000 rifles captured from Russia during the late war, and that the government has turned the weapons over to private merchants who find the readiest market for them with Chinese revolutionists.

Viceroy Chang Jen-Chun, of Canton, is clinging grimly to the Tatsu despite the presence of a Japanese cruiser off the city, and insists he will not give it up until better proof is offered than heretofore that it was not contraband.

Members of the Japanese government continue to ridicule the idea of war with China over the Tatsu matter. They are a unit, however, in declaring that the latter government must surrender the confiscated vessel with proper apologies and compensation to the owners. The ministers are less angry than desperately embarrassed by the situation.

Two Chinese proffers to submit the question to a mixed court have been refused with the additional statement that such suggestions are unwelcome.

"Prophetess" Fined.

London, Mar. 5.—For an alarming prophesy which forced the suspension of a big coal mine and partly depopulated the collier village of Trimiarian, Mme. St. Leonards, a clairvoyant, has been fined $25 and warned to quit business unless she can make more cheerful predictions. The clairvoyant told the miners that the pit would be flooded shortly and every one in it drowned. The miners promptly knocked off work and many left to seek employment elsewhere.

Fifty Thousand Dollar Fire.

Chicago, Mar. 5.—Fire which started on the third floor of a five-story building in Market street occupied by the American Cork Company, caused great excitement in the heart of the wholesale district shortly after noon today and caused a loss estimated at $50,000. About fifty employes, mostly girls, engaged in packing cork, were thrown into a panic, but all succeeded in escaping from the building. The cause of the fire is unknown.

The Torpedo Flotilla.

Callao, Peru, Mar. 5.—The United States torpedo flotilla is maneuvering off Sanlorenza Island today for the benefit of the Peruvian naval school cadets, who are looking on from the transport Iquitos. Commander Lastres of the Iquitos will give a banquet to the United State officers tonight.

Nebraska Democrats.

Omaha, Neb., Mar. 5.—Mr. Bryan and his party are here to attend the democratic State convention. He is the dominant figure of the meeting, and will dictate the platform, which will reflect to a certain extent the ideas he will present to the national convention at Denver.

Rio Janeiro Bank Suspends.

Rio Janeiro, Mar. 5.—The Bank of Commerce, one of Rio de Janeiro's principal financial institutions, has suspended. The failure threatens serious embarrassment to smaller institutions.

Killed at Fire.

Chicago, Mar. 5.—Four persons are reported killed in the collapse of a building at 936 north Leavitt street. Police patrols and ambulances have been rushed to the scene.

Murderer Hanged.

Philadelphia, Mar. 5.—L. Ferruchei, the Italian who shot and killed Carlin Sandimarca, was hanged here today.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 5.—The reduction in the Bank of England rate exerted bullish influence on market sentiment and caused buying from many sources all around the room. Covering of shorts by brokers for manipulative pools worked to help along the upward movement. Prices of nearly everything traded in made some gain. A number of specialties that have been inactive for a long time became more prominent in the trading.

WEST VIRGINIA'S BRIEF.

Attorney General C. W. May, of West Virginia, filed yesterday with the Supreme Court of the United States the brief for West Virginia in the equity case of Virginia against West Virginia in the matter of the adjustment of the old controversy between the two States regarding the payment by West Virginia of her portion of the Virginia State debt. At the opening of the present term of court it was decided to refer the entire cause to a master, and Virginia proposed a decree which directs the master to ascertain:

1, The amount of the public debt of the commonwealth of Virginia, as of the first day of January, 1861, stating specifically how, and in what form the same was evidenced and by what authority of law and for what purpose the same was created and the dates and nature of bonds or other evidences of said indebtedness.

2. What amount and what proportion of said indebtedness and what interest accruing thereon should in equity be apportioned to and be now paid by the State of West Virginia.

It is to these two suggestions on behalf of Virginia that the State of West Virginia takes exception, and proposes a decree which directs the master to ascertain:

1. The amount of State expenditures made by the commonwealth of Virginia prior to the first day of January, 1861, within the territory now included within the State of West Virginia, since any part of said indebtedness was contracted, as provided by the ordinance adopted by the commonwealth of Virginia at Wheeling, August 20, 1861,

2 The aggregate ordinary expenses of the State government of the commonwealth prior to January 1, 1861, and since any part of said indebtness was contracted.

3. All moneys paid into the treasury of the commonwealth of Virginia from the counties included in the State of West Virginia during said period.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

The regular quarterly business meeting of the First Baptist Church was held last evening and was very largely attended. A short song and prayer service preceded the business session. The only business transacted of public interest was the consideration of Rev. Dr. W. F. Fisher's resignation as pastor of the church, which he recently formally resigned to take effect April 30th next. Knowing that Dr. Fisher's intentions were to return to evangelistic work for the State Mission Board, the church very reluctantly accepted the resignation. A committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions relative to Dr. Fisher's resignation. Dr. Fisher has been pastor of the church since May 1, 1905, and his many friends and acquaintances will regret the circumstances which cause his removal from Alexandria. He is one of the best known and justly esteemed of the resident ministers of the city.

Previous to assuming charge of the Baptist Chuch in this city Dr. Fisher was one of the State evangelists of the State Mission Board. Before going into that work he was pastor of the Court street Baptist Church, of Portsmouth, Va. Dr. Fisher will preach his farewell sermon on the last Sunday in April and will leave thereafter for Lynchburg, in which city he will make his home.

The monthly meeting of the Teachers' Association of the First Baptist Church Sunday school will be held Tuesday evening. Following the business session a social will be held, to which the choir of the church has been invited. Refreshments will be served.

Norment, vice president; John Callahan, second vice president and general manager, and Odell S. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

The second vice president and general manager, John Callahan, retains his old assistants, as follows: D. J. Callahan, assistant general manager; W. H. Callahan, general passenger agent; J. G. Williams, auditor, and J. Allen Riordon, general claim agent.

GENEROUS GIFT.

Rev. Patrick J. Hally, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Malden, Mass., has received a gift of $10,000 from several friends, whose names he declines to disclose, which, added to the same amount collected by the parishioners during the past ten months, has entirely cleared the debt of the parish. Father Hally had an audience with Archbishop O'Connell and informed him that the debt had been cleared up. The Archbishop sent the parishioners and donors his blessing. At a social and dance at Marie Hall under the direction of the St. Elizabeth's Guild Rev. Hally announced that the debt had been cleared. He said those who gave the additional $10,000 were not Malden people, but outsiders, who had placed the money in his hands to use as he thought best. Father Hally assumed pastorate of the church five years ago. At that time there was a debt of $40,000. Rev. Father Hally is a cousin of Mr. James Roche, of this city. He visited Mr. Roche in Alexandria ten years ago. Father Hally has other relatives in this vicinity.

THE BARK ASIA.

As was stated in the Gazette, the Russian bark Asia, laden with bones from the river Plata in Argentina was docked at the wharf of the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company yesterday morning. The Asia is consigned to the Bryant Fertilizer Company. The bark was brought up the river by the tug M. Mitchell Davis. The Asia sailed from her loading port over three months ago. The bark has aboad over 1,000 tons of bones, the remains of animals that have died on the plains of Argentina, which will be ground up at the Bryant fertilizer works. During the voyage to this port the mate and carpenter of the Asia died.

BIRTHDAY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the George Washington Birthday Association will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce at which time the accounts in connection with this year's celebration of the 22nd of Febrnary will be audited. Officers for the ensuing year will also be elected at this meeting. Any white citizen of Alexandria may become a member of the association upon the payment of one dollar a year, and a general invitation is extended all such to be present tonight.

CASE CONTINUED.

Conductor Beahm, Motorman Robey and Trolleyman Dove, of the electric railway, and Engineer Joshua Harrington and L. Connors, of the Southern Railway, were cited to appear in the Police Court this afternoon where an investigation of the cause of the collision between a locomotive and electric train at Cameron and Henry streets last Thursday night was to have been made. It was necessary, however, to postpone the case until four o'clock p. m. Monday, the 16th instant. Engineer Harrington, one of the defendants in the case, is confined to his home by sickness, and was unable to be present at the hearing.

MILITIA MONEY.

Governor Swanson has signed the bill which increases the appropriation to the State militia from $18,000 to $54,000. The bill stipulates that $15,000 of the sum shall be used for a permanent camping-ground for the State militia.

The military board will meet shortly to consider propositions as to where the camp will be located, and it is their purpose to purchase an efficient equipment and to establish a good encampment and rifle range. According to the governor, the appropriation will greatly increase the efficiency of the service, and will cause a marked improvement in military matters in future.

FINED FIFTY DOLLARS.

As was stated in the Gazette, Anton H. Afgron, a sailor employed on the fourmasted schooner Clara A. Donnell, seriously cut a sailor on that vessel yesterday afternoon during a quarrel. His victim is known on the schooner as Joseph the assailant was arrested. Joseph was stabbed several times on the left arm. Twenty-six stitches were taken in the injured arm. Afgron told the police that the man he stabbed kept constantly tantalizing him. Afgron was brought before the Police Court this morning and fined $50. Should he fail to pay the fine he will be sent to jail for 90 days.

TO BE HELD FOR EXAMINATION

The case of Cornelius Bryant, the youth who took a horse and buggy belonging to the Alexandria Laundry Company from this city to Fauquier county last Saturday night, was set for trial in the Police Court this morning. It was determined to hold the accused so that an examination can be made into his mental condition. Bryant has been subject to epileptic fits during the time he has been in custody.

The horse and buggy were brought back to this city this morning. The horse's mane and tail had been clipped

SENSATIONAL ARREST.

Sensational developments are expected to follow the arrests in a downtown hotel at Pittsburg, Pa., early Wednesday, of George H. Lowe, a coachman for Mrs. Mary McJones, and Mrs. Edna Skinner, wife of Harry Skinner, a wealthy and prominent carriage manufacturer of that city. The couple, it is alleged, registered at the hotel as man and wife.

After shadowing her husband and Mrs. Skinner for five hours that night Mrs. Lowe, accompained by Detective Morgan McDonald, recognized the handwriting of her husband on the register. The detective gained admittance to the room and placed Lowe and Mrs. Skinner under arrest. They were sent to jail pending a hearing. Telling a story of alleged cruelty and abuse, Mrs. Lowe declares that her husband has attempted to have her committed to the Dixmont Insane Asylum.

Do not Crowd the Season.

The first warm days of spring bring with them a desire to get out and enjoy the exhilarating air and sunshine. Children that have been housed up all winter are brought out and you wonder where they all came from. The heavy winter clothing is thrown aside and many shed their flannels. Then a cold wave comes and people say that grip is epidemic. Colds at this season are even more dangerous than in mid-winter, as there is more danger of pneumonia. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, however, and you will have nothing to fear. It always cures, and we have never known a cold to result in pneumonia when it was used. It is pleasant and safe to take. Children like it. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

An Unsecured Loan.

Though pawnbrokers are not supposed to have any friends, only customers, there is a story that is told in New York that shows that they sometimes stretch their rules—if the right man comes along. A certain racing man had been having a very hard streak of luck. If there were twenty-one horses in the race, his choice would never be better than No. 20. Finally his money was all gone; also all of his negotiable property. When he had spent his last dollar for breakfast, he turned into the pawnshop where all his valuables were being cared for, and they amounted to considerable.

"I'd like to have $500 on this," he said to the proprietor, laying down an ordinary lead pencil on the counter.

Without a change of countenance, the pawnbroker made out a ticket and passed the money over the counter.

Right there the racing man's fortunes seemed to change. Every one of his selections proved an easy winner, and, as he pushed his luck, he was able at the end of the week to redeem his pencil and all his other valuables. —New York Globe.

A Doubtful Guarantee.

The Arabs and, indeed, all Moslems have the practice of re-enforcing promises by adding to their word of honor the Arabic phrase Inshallah ("Please God"). How much meaning it conveys in some lands of the east is told in the pages of "In Moorish Captivity."

The pious proviso is a very useful formula to the Moors and is frequently used in making promises that they have no intention whatever of keeping, as they can then take refuge behind the Almighty when they are taxed with their breach of faith.

There is a story told of a man who kept a shop in Gibraltar and who knew the ways of the Moor. To him one day came one of the faithful, who was desirous of buying some cloth. On being informed that the price was $2 a yard, payment in sixty days, he replied:

"All right. I will take so much and will pay you in sixty days, Inshallah."

"No," said the vender, "the price is $2, payment in sixty days. For sixty days, Inshallah, the price is $2.50."

Her Hidden Ambition.

There is an instance, rare in the profession, of a musician who had little enthusiasm for her calling, just as Fanny Kemble, the actress, was by no means enamored of the stage and would have quit it had not circumstances bound her there. A brilliant young violinist, a native of Holland, played one day for Edward VII. when he was the Prince of Wales.

"Is there anything you care more for than your Stradivarius?" asked the prince, expecting, of course, a negative reply.

The young Netherlander colored a little. "The violin is not an absorbing passion with me, your highness," she replied.

"Ah! Perhaps you have a leaning to another branch of art?" suggested the prince.

"Indeed, I have not!" the violinist said in a burst of confidence. "But, your highness, I just love to cook! I really believe I should make an excellent chef if I had the opportunity to practice."—New York Tribune.

A "Fine Old Woman."

During the evening a gentleman came to Mrs. Siddons and said, "Madam, I beg your pardon for asking so rude a question, but in consequence of a wager allow me to ask your age."

She replied, "Seventy-eight years old."

"Hang it," said he, "I have lost." And he abruptly went away.

Mrs. Siddons immediately said, "Puppy!"

"Very true," I observed, "but why did you tell him you were so old?"

She replied, "Whenever a lady of an uncertain age, as it is termed, is asked how old she is she had better add ten or more years to her age, for then the inquirer goes away saying, 'What a fine old woman!'"—"Journals of Sir George Smart."

Foresight and Delicatessen.

In Chicago is a woman who combines the functions of caterer and trance medium, serving her customers with refreshment psychical or physical, according to their wishes.

Either she or the sign painter whom she employed must be a humorist, for her sign reads thus:

"Madame Blank, caterer and trance medium. Groceries and Previsions."

Guaranteed Ghosts.

"No intelligent person pays any attention to ghosts," said the dogmatic person.

"Perhaps not," answered Miss Cayenne, "unless the ghost has been able to secure an introduction from some psychic research society."—Washington Star.

The Bohemian.

"Ah, once a bohemian always a bohemian!" exclaimed the unscissored poet. "A bohemian never changes."

"No, not even his collar," replied the practical man, who had met a few bohemians.—Chicago News.

Rheumatic Pains Relieved.

B. F. Crocker, Esq., now 84 years of age, and for twenty years Justice of the Peace at Martinsburg, Iowa, says: "I am terribly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism in my left arm and right hip. Three Queer Things.

The curious things which occur in the world on a given day would no doubt if collected excite the wonder of the most incredulous. Yet in a single newspaper there was recently found an account of a woman who was guilty of so infamous a proceeding as going to sleep at a shop while the assistant was in the act of showing her some dress stuffs, accompanying the exhibition with the usual eloquence of these individuals.

The second related the acuteness of two tramps who conceived the idea of going to a fancy dress ball in their ordinary attire. As may be imagined they devoted the best part of their time to a serious inroad on the resources of the supper room, much to the amusement of the whole party, who naturally thought they were guests who had been invited to the entertainment and who, having made themselves up with exceptional skill for their assumed parts, were carrying out the idea of the characters they represented for the purpose of the jest.

The third story was that of an absentminded young woman who was playing with a pair of scissors and proceeded to trim off her eyebrows quite unconscious of what she was doing.—Pearson's Weekly.

Benton and Barton.

In the "Thirty Years In the United States Senate," by Thomas Hart Benton, Missouri's famous United States senator, there is scant mention of Benton's colleague from Missouri, David Barton. The only place in which his name occurs is where Senator Benton gives the roll call of the senate, and Barton's name of course is therein contained. Benton undertook to punish Barton by ignoring him and thus relegate the first United States senator from Missouri to oblivion. Barton had brought about Benton's election to the senate. Barton was first named by the legislature, and there was a long contention as to the second senatorship. Finally Barton's friendship for Benton brought about Benton's election. Later the two quarreled over the appointment of an Indian agent in the far west and drifted further and further apart. Finally the relations between the two senators became such that they scarcely spoke to one another when they met.—Kansas City Star.

The Injured One.

A gentleman owning a sugar estate in Demerara went out to visit it for the first time. The day after his arrival he stood watching the punts bringing the cane home. A young negro boy who was driving the mules, wishing to increase the speed of them, struck one of them with his whip. The mule promptly responded by launching out with his heels and dealt the boy a kick on the head which stretched him on the ground, where he lay rubbing his woolly pate on the spot where the kick had been received.

"Is he hurt? Is he hurt?" cried the planter in alarm. A full grown negro, hearing the expressions of concern, sprang forward hastily and, raising the mule's heels, shouted out:

"No, boss! That mule him walk tendah fo' a day or two, but him no hurt!"—Chambers' Journal.

The First Reporter.

The modern reporter harks back to the reign of Queen Anne and to the unknown scribe who attempted to tell the public the secrets of her parliament. He had a hard time of it, for parliament wished to keep its secrets to itself. In 1728 an order was passed "that it is an indignity to and a breach of the privilege of this house for any person to presume to give in written or printed newspapers any account or minute of the debates or proceedings; that upon discovery of the authors, printers or publishers of any such newspapers this house will proceed against the offenders with the utmost severity." During the famous Wilkes case in 1772 the reporters won the victory which they have since held without dispute.—New York American.

When the Lights Went Out.

Almost every speaker has had the experience of the house becoming totally dark because of the failure of the electric lights. Here is such an experience by one lecturer. It was in Pittsburg; the audience was a Hebrew society. When the lights went out, the lecturer waited a moment and then said, "We will proceed anyway, for I still have the Israel-lites." It was the hit of the evening.—Lyceumite and Talent.

A Great Secret.

At some of the English country fairs a "great secret" is sold in sealed envelopes at twopence apiece. Here is the secret: "Never buy an article before examining it. If you had known this before, you would not have paid twopence for this worthless envelope when you could get more than two dozen good ones for the same price."

A Thackeray Slip.

Thackeray asked Lowell to point out candidly any error of Queen Anne English in the novel "Henry Esmond." Lowell asked if people used at that time the phrase "different to."

"Hang it all!" cried Thackeray. "No, of course they didn't."

Thoughtful.

Singleton—Your wife appears to be an unusually thoughtful woman. Wedderly—That's what she is. Why, you couldn't imagine half the things she thinks when I am detained downtown late.

Nothing makes a woman prouder than to be able to refer to her "old nurse."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Never a One Day President.

The periodic assertion is made that on Sunday, March 4, 1849, Senator David Rice Atchison of Missouri, who was then president pro tem. of the senate, was president of the United States "virtually." He never was, "virtually" or otherwise.

In 1793 congress enacted that in event of no president or vice president being ready to succeed the first office should devolve on the president of the senate and next on to the speaker of the house. The succession was changed in 1886. Now, Zachary Taylor and Millard Fillmore were in Washington on March 4, 1849. It being Sunday, they permitted an interregnum to follow until the next day. Mr. Atchison took no oath as president, and without taking such he could not exercise the office. Mr. Taylor could have taken the oath at any second subsequent to noon on March 4. No pompous inauguration is demanded. The chief justice need not administer the oath. Arthur took it in New York before Judge Brady at 2 a. m. and Mr. Roosevelt in Buffalo before United States Judge Hazel.

The "virtually" of Mr. Atchison is visionary unless by some bolt from the blue the elected officials had been removed.—Pittsburg Post.

Glory Everywhere.

A Methodist minister was much annoyed by one of his hearers frequently shouting out during the preaching, "Glory!" "Praise the Lord!" and the like. Though often reproved, the happy member persisted in expressing himself.

One day the minister invited him to tea and, to take his mind from thoughts of praise, handed him a scientific book, full of dry facts and figures, to pass the time before tea.

Presently the minister was startled by a sudden outburst of "Glory!" "Hallelujah!" and "Praise the Lord!"

"What is the matter, man?" asked the minister.

"Why, this book says the sea is five miles deep?"

"Well, what of that?"

"Why, the Bible says my sins have been cast into the depths of the sea, and if it is that deep I need not be afraid of their ever coming up again. Glory!"

The minister gave up hopes of reforming him.

A Daring Escape.

The annals of Sing Sing are full of daring escapes. A typical case was that of Pallister and Rohlf, two convicted murderers. By frequent appeals they had headed off the day of their execution, and at length decided on escape at any cost—even that of life itself. Late one night Pallister called for a drink of milk, and as the official on duty opened the cell door to give it him he was seized, dragged in and overpowered. The desperado then locked the officer in the cell and, after securing his keys, released his comrade Rohlf, when they in turn overcame and disarmed the second night watchman. This done, they offered release to three more prisoners with whom they had made friends. These declined the doubtful benefit, however, whereupon the two murderers climbed the skylight, reached the boundary wall and dropped to liberty by the broad Hudson, which they crossed in a small boat.—New York Tribune.

Quick climatic changes try strong constitutions and cause, among other evils, nasal catarrh, a troublesome and offensive disease. Sneezing and snuffling, coughing and difficult breathing, and the drip, drip of the foul discharge into the throat—all are ended by Ely's Cream Balm. This honest remedy contains no cocaine, mercury nor other harmful ingredient. The worst cases yield to treatment in a short time. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.
